Bounty0x Platform will be released in Q1 2020. In this Bounty0x 2020 Roadmap article, Bounty0x is going to demonstrate its platform which is working to tackle the existing problems and problems that are currently affecting the bounty ecosystem. Problem I'll start with the introduction of the problem and then highlight the solutions offered by Bounty0x to solve that problem. Problem Definition Blockchain-based bounty hunting/welcoming platform. Existing platforms have different kinds of issues. A few of them are: Poor user experience and UX. In existing bounty hunting platforms, participants get only the complete list of available bounties and bounty hunters get only the completed bounties. This leads to a lack of motivation to become a bounty hunter because the participant/user can always say that there is no bounty available for that task. After all, the complete list of bounties can be a large list. The existing bounty platforms need a more interesting and rewarding approach to attract bounty hunters to become bounty hunters and more bounty hunters to be active on these platforms. Not all participants/users are active. Bounty hunters are usually the ones to be active and respond to bounty hunter queries. The participants who have been active on bounty hunting platforms are a minority of all the participants of Bounty0x Platform. There is no transparency. Bounty0x is a blockchain-based bounty hunting/welcoming platform where participants and bounty hunters are able to know who the participants are and who the bounty hunters are and vice versa. This transparency makes it easier for participants/users to keep track of their activity and to see which bounties are completed. Bounty0x has a unique solution. Bounty0x is a user-centric bounty hunting platform where bounty hunters and participants are in one platform. This allows Bounty0x to provide excellent bounty hunter UX and user experience. Bounty0x Solution Bounty0x is committed to solving the existing problems. Here are the Bounty0x 2020 roadmap items. Ethereum smart contract bounty hunting platform. Bounty0
