Its goal is to escape from danger to the other world where, of course, there are beautiful butterflies. Beautiful butterflies do not hurt, right? Before they begin collecting the butterflies, you have a free choice of the type of transport. For example, if you are lucky, you will find a balloon, which can be inflated at the base. If you do not like balloons, you will get an egg, which is an eggcrate with a butterfly sleeping inside. As you approach the balloon, it will appear on the screen. It is so that you can choose from two buttons. If you press the first, the balloon will take off and you will be chasing it, trying to collect the butterflies that fly away. If you press the second button, the egg will rise and you will be chasing after the butterfly. As soon as the butterfly touches the egg, it will fall, and you will have to catch the butterfly and break its shell. If it is done correctly, you will get a bonus point. If you lose your butterfly, you will have to start again. As you play Butterfly Escape, it can be useful to learn more about collecting butterflies and eggs. Butterflies have a life expectancy of two days, and after that they are considered to be no longer useful. If you leave the egg in the atmosphere for more than two days, it will hatch out into a baby butterfly. Hatching means the end of the egg's usefulness. Moreover, if you are not able to catch a butterfly, you will have to repeat the process for the next egg. You will have to control the situation in the game. Use tools that can help you collect more butterflies. In the game, you have two types of bombs: an ordinary and a special. The ordinary bomb is used to blow up and destroy the butterflies' nests. The special bomb can only be used on some of the dangerous butterflies. If you want to get rid of a dangerous butterfly, you have to play it over and over again. Butterfly Escape is a simple, but interesting game. The butterfly's ability to fly makes it to find away into the unknown. You have to collect butterflies and build a bridge to a safe place
