App Store URL: Auto Sync is a synchronization application for iOS that has been around for a while now. It has been extensively used by many people in similar ways as Trello. In this review, I will give you a complete look at this application and how it works, and how to use it. Is it any good? How can it be used to your advantage? Let's find out in this review: Design Of course, an app with this application name has to look good, and AutoSync does that. While you can still see parts of the UI and the buttons, they are semi-transparent, making them barely visible. The whole app is available in two modes, one dark, and the other light. The application has a nice design, but it's not as nice as the one in Trello. Interface The interface of the application has a nice design, and it works well. On the top, you can add new items, but also find a link to the settings of the application. After creating an item, you will be able to edit it, which is also pretty nice. To access all items, you can simply swipe down and access all the items. You can also navigate through items by swiping left and right, and you can press the back button to go to the previous screen. Also, there is an application icon on the top-right corner. Pressing it opens the application in the dock, which might be helpful when you don't see it. The views also include a search field, which makes it easy
