As for the rest of its utility features, you can create, edit, preview, and publish the videos in any of its four tiers (Free, Standard, Professional, and Enterprise) to any of the over two dozen professional-grade video hosting services, create the images from any of the more than two hundred free photo libraries and edit the subtitles using any of the hundreds of free font and text effects. When it comes to the app's publishing abilities, you can export/publish your videos in any of the six format types (GIF, WMV, MKV, MP4, AVI, FLV), and directly to YouTube, Facebook and Twitter without leaving the app. Plus, it's a breeze to send an animated email, flash it in as a desktop screen or website wallpaper, or create a web player to embed it anywhere you like.
