Man dies after passing out at J&K Thakkar Hospital A senior citizen succumbed to a heart attack after falling unconscious in a local hospital in Thakkar on Monday. The deceased was identified as Phulkar Vishal, 81, who passed away after he suffered cardiac arrest at the Jammu and Kashmir Institute of Medical Sciences (JKIMS). "The deceased was brought to the emergency ward by his younger brother, along with a relative named Ajay. He was in a serious condition and was also suffering from paralysis of his limbs. He had requested his relatives to take him to a government hospital for treatment, as his private doctor was out of station. As they couldn't find a vehicle to take him, Ajay reportedly brought him to the Thakkar hospital at about 5pm," a Thakkar hospital officer said. "The patient was administered first aid and admitted in the emergency ward. Later in the evening, he passed away due to a heart attack," the officer added. Senior Superintendent of Police (SSP), Thakkar, Syed Waheed Para said that the death was "very unfortunate" and said the investigators were conducting raids to find out the exact cause of the heart attack.

A survey of research on parents' participation in children's programs. Theoretically, parents' participation in children's programs can serve various purposes, some of which are improving the child's growth and development, nurturing the parent-child relationship, establishing and maintaining a positive parent-child relationship, and educating the parents. The purpose of this study was to search the literature in English, Japanese, and Korean on parents' participation in children's programs and to analyze research methods and conclusions to offer guidelines for future research.
